"Diff in June" tells a day in the life of a personal computer, written by itself in its own language, as a sort of private log or intimate diary focused on every single change to the data on its hard disk. Using a small custom script, for the entire month of June 2011 Martin Howse registered each chunk of data which had changed within the file system from the previous day's image. Excluding binary data, one day's sedimentation has been published in this book, a novel of data archaeology in progress tracking the overt and the covert, merging the legal and illegal, personal and administrative, source code and frozen systematics. Martin Howse (London 1969 - www.1010.co.uk) is a programmer, writer, performer and explorer. He is a co-founder of micro-research, a mobile platform for psychogeophysical research with ongoing projects in Berlin, London, Suffolk and Peenemuende. Over the last ten years he has workshopped, performed, lectured and exhibited worldwide. Explains how to use the portable music player with a Windows PC or a Macintosh computer to perform functions including play music, store personal contact and calendar information, and use as a portable FireWire drive. A practical guide to viewing the universe. "From Paper to Pixels" is a guide for musicians making the transition from paper sheet music to digital sheet music readers and apps. From selecting the perfect tablet or computer to finding the right apps and tools for reading and writing music, exploring online sheet music resources and – most importantly – how to get music into your tablet or computer of choice, this comprehensive guide is written in a fun, breezy style, designed to soothe the fears of even the most techno-phobic musician. "From Paper to Pixels" will show you: •10 Reasons Why Pixels Are Better Than Paper •The Four C's Of Putting Together The Perfect Digital Sheet Music Reader •How To Put Sheet Music Into Your Tablet Or Computer •Cool Things You Never Knew You Could Do With Digital Sheet Music And much, much more! "From Paper to Pixels" was written for every kind of musician reading all types of music, from traditional music notation to lyric sheets, chord charts, and tablature. No matter what style or musical background you come from, you'll find this book to be an invaluable resource. "From Paper to Pixels" was written by Hugh Sung, a professional classical "paperless pianist" who is a pioneer of digital sheet music and a teacher who loves to empower learners. After performing around the world, recording multiple albums, and serving on the faculty of the venerable Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia for 19 years, Hugh combined his passion for music and technology and co-founded AirTurn, a company that develops technologies for musicians (www.airturn.com). For additional materials and tutorials, visit the companion website to this book at www.frompapertopixels.com Even a cursory look at conference programs and proceedings reveals a burgeoning interest in the field of social and affective factors in home language maintenance and development. To date, however, research on this topic has been published in piecemeal fashion, subsumed under the more general umbrella of 'bilingualism'. Within bilingualism research, there has been an extensive exploration of linguistic and psycholinguistic perspectives on the one hand, and educational practices and outcomes on the other. In comparison, social and affective factors – which lead people to either maintain or shift the language – have been under-researched. This is the first volume that brings together the different strands in research on social and affective factors in home language maintenance and development, ranging from the micro-level (family language policies and practices), to the meso-level (community initiatives) and the macro-level (mainstream educational policies and their implementation). The volume showcases a wide distribution across contexts and populations explored. Contributors from around the world represent different research paradigms and perspectives, providing a rounded overview of the state-of-the-art in this flourishing field.
